Come And Take A Look!

Come in and see Marni at the new store The Pine City Scrapbooking Co. on Friday, February 1st. You'll have to excuse our dust, but I'd love to have you see what we have to offer so far. We have been working day and night, but I think you'll like what you will see. We will be getting in new things each week, so the store will be ever changing. I am still waiting on a lot of orders for fun new products.

Our contractor is fantastic! Before you come in the store check out my blog at:

www.scrapbookinginthepines.blogspot.com and check out the archives and look at the transformation the building has taken. You have to know that Pat the builder guy didn't start the job until January 6th! We really feel like it has been an extreme makeover!

Come and see me, I'd love to have you check out all the fun new products.
